

Dear Friends;

We so appreciate all of you who have come along with us on this amazing adventure and who have supported us through encouragement and finances. We also appreciate all of you who take the time from your busy lives to stay in touch.

We are so thankful for your participation in our vision to change lives and shape futures of at-risk youth. The support of our friends is so very crucial to our success. World Wide Life may be the hands and feet on the ground but without you our vision isn't activated. We rely heavily on your encouragement, financial support and spreading the word about our efforts. As we continue daily life in a very foreign land, hearing from and connecting with you is a blessing beyond measure for us. Some of you have watched our journey for many years and have witnessed the transformation in our lives. It turns out that was just the beginning. The transformation in our lives has grown tenfold since we arrived full-time in Thailand in 2015. We have truly encountered continually changing and un-nerving situations daily and have been equipped with grace to rise above many challenge for the sake of something so much greater than us. The young lives we are destined to help shape.

Our most recent project is Life Line Youth Development Centre in Chiang Rai. We provide foster care for three teenage girls who can further their education with your support. Our heart is to give them every opportunity for success. Without our help, their only choices are to go back to the village and get married off or possibly become vulnerable to exploitation. The girls we provide a home for grew up in Children's homes or with a support system from a relative. However, those homes were shut down or those relatives lost due to tragedy. Without help these girls would not have their basic needs supplied or continue their education. We took in one 16-year-old girl who thought her best option for survival was to go to her sister's village and marry herself off to someone she didn't know. She cried tears of joy when we told her we would help her. We are currently providing full care and custody and paying all expenses including education expenses for these girls. We are committed to seeing this vision flourish and with your help we can continue to shape lives and change futures. In time and with your continued support we will take more girls into foster care and expand the Centre to include ongoing training projects for at-risk boys and girls. We also continue to assist a boarding school of over 100 Hill Tribe children in Mae Suai Thailand, host many outreaches to impoverished villages and assist the Thai foundation that we legally operate through.

If you have a heart to help us with the sponsorship of Life Line Youth Development Centre, we have created a simple sponsorship system and have partnered with EIM, of Calgary AB, (Ever Increasing Ministries are advisors to our Board of Directors) to provide Canadian Tax Receipts for all donations made by Canadian bank electronic transfers. Please see the attached suggested sponsorship program. If you have a heart to contribute monthly we will send you a monthly e-transfer reminder.
